

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Police captain one of 30 officers to attend Commanders School
Cpt. Cheryl Manley adds to leadership skills

Simpsonville, S.C. — Cpt. Cheryl Manley of the Simpsonville Police Department is one of only 30 officers statewide chosen to attend the 2018 S.C. Law Enforcement Commanders School.

The class was held last week for those in leadership positions and provides supervisors with the necessary tools to enhance the performance of their work units. The class also examines critical areas relating to one's ability to be both a leader and a manager.

Several state and federal agents served as instructors at the School.

The City of Simpsonville and Simpsonville Police Department are proud of Cpt. Manley for being chosen by the Law Enforcement Coordinating Committee to add to her already exceptional leadership skills.

Cpt. Manley is a shining example of the wonderful people who serve the City of Simpsonville through public safety.

Cpt. Cheryl Manley of the Simpsonville Police Department (front row, fourth from right) is one of 30 officers statewide to attend the S.C. Law Enforcement Commanders School.

For questions, please contact Justin Lee Campbell, Community Relations Specialist, at 864-838-8051 or email jcampbell@simpsonville.com.